Hospitality: Loving from the Inside Out

February 25-27, 2010

Hospitality practiced in the Benedictine tradition can open us up to love ourselves and others with clear heart and mind. Through facilitated sessions, conversations and prayer the focus of this retreat will be to engage practices of reverence, receptivity and generosity. These practices may enhance our self-understanding and improve the quality of our relationships.

Dates: February 25, 2010, 9:30 a.m. - February 27, 2010, 1:00 p.m.

Cost: Single $245; double $400 ($200/person)
Room and meals included

Facilitators: Claudia Greco and Jerriane Bland, spiritual guides and Oblates of Benedictine Women of Madison
