Caring for the earth

Caring for the earth is part of our mission, rooted in the Benedictine values of stability and respect for all of creation. The sisters have a long history of environmental stewardship and invite others to help with this work.

Many who visit Holy Wisdom Monastery discover a spiritual connection to the land—while volunteering, walking the trails or spending time outside reflecting on the mysteries around them. Come experience the wonders of nature.

Friends of Wisdom Prairie

The Friends of Wisdom Prairie are dedicated to caring for the earth at Holy Wisdom Monastery. Since 2014, the Friends have offered financial and volunteer support toward the ecological restoration and maintenance of the monastery's 130 acres and an additional 60 acres owned by Dane County. The Friends and the monastery partner with Dane County, many other organizations, and individuals like you who value caring for the earth. Here's what was accomplished in 2018:

- Provided more than 1,400 hours of volunteer service to the monastery
- Burned 100 acres of prairie & woods
- Sowed prairie and savanna seed on 10 acres of land
- Controlled weeds on newer prairie
- Installed the new trail system
- Planted 35 bur oaks in our savanna restoration areas
- Used low impact logging in remnant savanna to remove weedy trees
- Collected prairie seed with Dane County Parks
- Initiated a systematic program of surveys of biota at the monastery including identifying 4 kinds of bats that live on monastery land
- Provided environmental and eco-spiritual education opportunities.

Sowing prairie seed

Friends enjoy:

- Making a difference by protecting and restoring natural habitats and improving the water quality of Lake Mendota
- Access to miles of nature trails
- Volunteer work parties
- Guided tours to learn about seasonal changes on the prairie
- Dinner lectures at the monastery with noted speakers
- Outings to other natural areas to learn how they care for the earth
- Membership meetings to further the organization's purpose and socialize with other Friends.

Your financial and volunteer contributions make the environmental work at Holy Wisdom Monastery possible.

Thank you!
